

In regards to the current call for a ruling against the Wisconsin Do Not Call List by national banks, I think this is a mistake. Most of my family members are currently listed on the No call list and the days and evenings are free of persistent telemarketer calls. I believe any change of this would be ill conceived.